Product Spotlight: ClarkDietrich Danback

ClarkDietrich's Danback® Flexible Wood Backing System can reduce your steel stud backing installation time by up to 90%! It features a Dricon® fire-retardant treated wood (FRT) that is a Class A fire retardant. It also does not require cutting, notching, ripping or routing so your installation is both easy and economical.

Danback provides superior connection shear and pullout strength to support even the heaviest loading conditions. The backing is also available with FSC-certified lumber, which is perfect if you need LEED® points for your project.

This product can be used in a variety of commercial and residential applications. Some of these include:

- Baseboards
- Door jams
- Wood trim
- Cabinets
- Vanities
- Ceilings
- Crown moulding

Project Spotlight: Riverfront Landing Apartments

Riverfront Landing Apartments is located in Pittsburgh's Ship District. It is a new development featuring studio, one-, two- and three-bedroom apartments that offer views of the downtown skyline or the Allegheny River. The development will include 365 units plus a river walk, resident parking, community areas, a bike shop, and resident storage areas.

Ohio Valley Drywall Supply provided the drywall, metal studs and GenieClips for the project. The anticipated completion date is 2019.

We Stock DensDeck Prime!

Georgia-Pacific DensDeck Prime is a durable commercial roof substrate that can offer stability against fire, foot traffic, punctures and hail damage. This product is used as a cover board and does not need to be gapped, and it can also be installed underneath solar roofing systems to add strength.

Some of the reasons to use a cover board include:

- Fire resistance - The right cover board under the membrane can increase the total fire rating of the assembly.
- Insulation protection - Cover boards extend the life and performance of the insulation layer and the total assembly.
- Wind uplift protection - A strong cover board can prevent wind uplift and keep metal fasteners in place.
- Sound resistance - Effective cover boards will significantly raise the Sound Transmission Class (STC) of the roof assembly.
- Strength - Cover boards protect the membrane, insulation and decking from damage due to the weather or maintenance activities.
